

FOREWORD

In full cognisance of the officium nobile mandate, wherein tax consultants are considered a noble or honourable profession, DDTC strives to be at the forefront in this respect. The officium nobile concept derives from the assumption that, in essence, tax consultants as a profession should not be solely profit-oriented, but also focus on how to promote inclusive tax education and a better tax system for all elements of society.

It is next to impossible for the Indonesian tax authorities to fly solo in the ventures into the ideal tax system. Tax consultants, such as DDTC, must inevitably serve as the government's partner to lay the foundations for tax literacy and help taxpayers in fulfilling their tax obligations. To realize these objectives, we actively engage in numerous profound initiatives and constantly assess how we may further innovate and advance our efforts. Through these undertakings, we seek to realize affluent and fair tax realms.

Not only do we endeavour to foster and promote the taxation state of our clients, but we are also committed to addressing the impact of our activities on our environment and the society dwelling therein. Pro bono plays a critical role in our aspirations for these missions. We view our substantial contributions of knowledge and skills to society as our obligation and privilege.

This commitment feeds through to all of our activities, both external and internal. This also constitutes an integral part of how we operate as a business and underpins all of our decisions.

WHAT PRO BONO MEANS TO US

OUR PRINCIPLES

- We give back the significant yields from our professional services to the tax society and all stakeholders in the tax sector. We strongly believe there is so much more to this recurrent cycle than mere commercial aspects and in turn, we will lay the cornerstone for an ideal tax ecosystem.
- We view all external parties as DDTC's clients and as such, we are bound by our social responsibilities to the society. We are committed to undertaking diverse products/services/activities to fulfil these responsibilities.
- Pro-bono does not merely imply CSR or free-of-charge professional services. Instead, it is inherent in DDTC's resolute vision and missions, regardless the merits and demerits of these activities.

"Efforts to address fundamental issues in Indonesia's tax sector have implored us to actively participate in establishing the tax society."

From a more holistic perspective, tax consultants play highly strategic roles in Indonesia's tax system. In essence, tax consultants are a noble profession that bridges the social contract between the government and society (officium nobile). The officium nobile concept derives from the notion that any profession should never be solely profit-oriented but also take into account ways to contribute or dedicate expertise to society. This requires a commitment to public services and a balance between the commercial and social aspects.

An ideal tax system is feasible if and only if taxpayers stay current with the latest tax developments, procedures and inherent rights and obligations. Tax consultants, therefore, should uphold their role as the government's partner in assisting taxpayers and serving as tax intermediaries. As intermediaries, tax consultants translate and simplify the complexities of tax regulations to render easier comprehension for taxpayers.

TAX KNOWLEDGE SHARING

Fully cognizant of the officium nobile mandate and in line with DDTC's vision and missions, our lifelong commitments have always been increasing public tax literacy, improving tax education, establishing a tax-aware society and encouraging tax compliance. Publication serves as a bridge for DDTC to provide non-profit services for the community. We seek to improve public tax knowledge by publishing free-of-charge tax-related books, articles, working papers, media opinions, quarterly reports, newsletters, serving as speakers in tax-related events, collaborating with academics, conducting joint research, general lectures, tax training and seminars, all for the interests of all tax stakeholders and ultimately establish an ideal tax system and tax society.

DDTCNews

We promote tax literacy in Indonesia with a full commitment to eliminating asymmetric information in the Indonesian tax society.

DDTCNews is a taxation news portal aimed at Indonesian society in general and the Indonesian taxation society in particular. This portal comprises news, analysis, and other tax information professionally managed by taking into account journalistic ethics and principles.

We receive numerous tax-related questions and queries from every layer of society channeled through email, social media or people coming directly to our office on a regular basis. Since its inception, in providing publicly accessible tax news, articles and consultation, we have anticipated that DDTCNews will be a 'cost center'. Nevertheless, we do not expect any foreseeable commercial return. Toward this initiative, HukumOnline, one of the digital law service platforms in Indonesia, has awarded Pro Bono Firm to DDTC.

DDTCNews' monthly active users average at more than 570,000, reaching a peak of 1.38 million in early 2021. These readers have diverse professional backgrounds, rendering DDTCNews highly effective for interactions between tax stakeholders.

SCHOLARSHIP & SPONSORSHIP

Human resources play a prominent role in any tax system. The quantity and quality of human resources in the taxation arena rely heavily on the tax education system and regulations. To date, there has been a scarcity of tax-proficient human resources in Indonesia, the prerequisite of a robust, ideal and balanced tax system. Tax-proficient human resources are a must to keep up with the highly dynamic national and international tax ecosystem. DDTC professionals, therefore, are encouraged to be constantly involved in continuous learning and in due course, share their newly acquired knowledge to the society.

This warrants our steadfast commitment to providing internal and external scholarship, the former for DDTC professionals and the latter for external tax practitioners. Through our Human Resources Development Programme (HRDP) and MoU with universities across Indonesia, qualified individuals are sent on a yearly basis to pursue higher education at reputable institutions and universities across the globe to ensure access to worldwide knowledge and a comparative level of expertise. In addition to the scholarship for formal education, HRDP also facilitates the attendance of DDTC professionals and external tax practitioners in international and national training and certification.

We strongly believe that the tax society's trust and support are integral to our achievements. For this reason, to establish and strengthen relations with the tax society, DDTC has developed a CSR program, through which we fully support tax-related activities and events via sponsorship.

Human Resource Development Programme (Internal)

Through Human Resources Development Programme (HRDP), DDTC provides an opportunity for employees with outstanding achievements to earn scholarships for international and national graduate programs and courses.

ACADEMIC ENGAGEMENT

In recognition of the growing challenges resulting from the forthcoming demographic bonus, we strongly believe that sustainable tax education is essential for the establishment of an ideal tax system. DDTC abides by the principle that a tax-aware society is vital for the optimization of tax policy design and administration. Public tax education constitutes one of DDTC's innate missions embodied in the form of Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with more than 30 well-known universities throughout Indonesia, Moreover, DDTC provides external scholarship to a handful of these university students and substantial insight into the tax curriculum of these universities.
