

UPDATE ON NEW TAX HOLIDAY REGIME IN INDONESIA

In the effort to strengthen one of the main functions of fiscal policy as covered in Indonesian Macroeconomic Framework (Kerangka Ekonomi Makro), namely the function of stabilization, the Government of Indonesia pursues the policy through the provisions of fiscal incentives for strategic economic activities. One of them is through the provisions of Tax Holiday.

Minister of Finance (MoF) of Republic of Indonesia has issued the most updated policy on Tax Holiday dated 29 March 2018 namely MoF Regulation No.35/PMK.010/2018 ("PMK 35/2018"). Prior to today's regime, Tax Holiday policy was initially implemented as of August 2011 in the era of President Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono (SBY) through MoF Regulation No. 130/PMK.011/2011 ("PMK 130/2011") as amended by MoF Regulation No. 192/PMK.011/2014 ("PMK 192/2014"). However, this initial regulation was then revoked by the issuance of MoF Regulation No.159/PMK.010/2015 ("PMK 159/2015") as amended by MoF Regulation No.103/PMK.010/2016 ("PMK 103/2016").

Important Changes

Revocation of Tax Holiday Privilege

After the approval of Tax Holiday, the facility granted to the taxpayer can be revoked should one or more of following conditions occur:

- a. realisation value of the investment plan at the commencement of commercial production is below IDR 500 Billion;
- b. realisation and the initial main business activity plan are not compatible based on the field inspection;
- c. taxpayer import or buy second-hand capital goods which are subject to the reduction of CIT, unless they are fully relocated as a complete package of new investment from other countries and the goods are not locally produced, and/or based on the government's instruction to implement national strategic projects;
- d. real main business activity is not in line with the registered main business activity plan
- e. there is transfer of assets or ownership change during the concession period, except if the new asset is more productive and does not lessen the investment value;
- f. the new capital investment is relocated to another country(ies).

If any of these cases occur, the sanctions will be as much as the value of Tax Holiday facility that has been utilized along with penalties. Specifically, for the revocation, when the realisation value of investment plan which is below IDR500 Billion but the realisation of the main business activity is consistent with the plan, the government will then offer another kind of tax facility for the taxpayer with applied terms and conditions.

To conclude, as the previous regulation did not significantly benefit many business sectors, the new formula of Tax Holiday regime provides more certainty. Not only does it provide legal certainty, this regime also simplifies the procedures and facilitates investment to boost real economic growth.
