Exemption of CPO Export Levies & the Derivatives

There is good news for farmers, traders, and exporters of palm oil. Over the next three months, export levies of palm oil, crude palm oil (CPO) and derivative products are to be exempted.

This policy applies after the issuance of Minister of Finance Regulation No.23/ PMK.05/ 2019 concerning the Second Amendment to Minister of Finance Regulation No. 81/ PMK.05/ 2018 concerning Public Service Agency (Badan

DEADLINE FOR THE FILING OF ANNUAL PERSONAL INCOME TAX RETURNS

Layanan Umum/BLU) Service Rates of the Indonesian Oil Palm Estate Fund (Badan Pengelola Dana Perkebunan Kelapa Sawit/BPDPKS) of the Ministry of Finance.

The regulation signed by the Minister of Finance, Sri Mulyani Indrawati, on March 6, 2019, came into force upon its promulgation on March 11, 2019. The authorities divide the levy rate periods into two, as below:

1. March 1, 2019 until May 31, 2019; and
2. June 1, 2019 onwards.

During the first period (March 1 to May 31, 2019), all exports of palm oil, CPO, and the derivative products are subject to a rate of US$ 0. This applies for all levels of CPO reference prices, namely below US$ 570/ ton, US$ 570/ ton to US$ 619/ ton, and above US$ 619/ ton.

Nonetheless, in the next period, as of June 1, 2019, levies shall be reapplied. In addition to fresh fruit bunches which are subject to US$ 0 levies, other products are subject to levies after the CPO reference price reaches US$ 570/ton.

The rates are in accordance with the previous regulations, namely the Minister of Finance Regulation No.152/PMK.05/ 2018. Rates vary from US$ 5 to US$ 50. Rates are imposed based on every ton that is exported.

The government has issued such revision to avoid inconsistent export levies following changes in the reference prices each month. The government states that the consistency of export levies imposition is to be considered in a 2-3 month period.
